MONDAY MORNING, SEPT 23 1872

President Greeley

A remarkable feature of the present political campaign is that the Greeley and Brown organs never say anything in favor of their candidate. One would suppose from reading them that he was nominated not by reason of any fitness of his for the high position of President of the United States, but simply on account of the supposed unfitness of Grant. Not a word do we ever hear about Greeley's qualifications. He is kept out of sight as carefully as if he were a great curiosity to be seen only for pay, or a disgraced member of the family whose name was never to be mentioned in the presence of company.

Column after column is filled daily with accusations, argument and insinuation against General Grant, involving his public and private life and even his domestic relations. The most unreasonable and inconsistent charges are trumped up against him to furnish staple for the speeches and documents of the campaign, but never a word is uttered by these political crusaders, of the reasons why they chose Mr Greeley above all the eminent men—politicians and statesmen—of the country to lead in the glorious work of rescuing the country—particularly the offices—from the unholy hands of the Radical infidels.

There must be some peculiar fitness either of personal qualifications or political principles, which secured Mr Greeley's nomination. It can hardly be supposed he was put forward, first by the Cincinnati Convention and then by that at Baltimore, without any reason beyond the mere fact that if he were elected Grant would not be. As to availability in the way of securing votes, there are many men in sympathy with the Liberal movement who could command vastly more strength among both the Liberals themselves and the Democracy. And yet all these men were passed over and Mr Greeley was chosen by two conventions, and is now the candidate of two parties, each with its own platform, and each platform at variance with the other and with those peculiar views which have constituted the foundation of Greeley's entire theory of political economy. The Greeley organs and orators persisting in their reticent course as to the motives that actuated their party leaders in nominating a man who had more enemies and fewer friends among their sympathizers than any other prominent man spoken of, every one may draw his own conclusions from what he knows of the character and antecedents of the candidates, and those in whose hands he has placed himself. Of the latter there is little to be said except that they consist of two classes: disappointed office seekers from the Republican party, whose chief aims are to get the offices and beat Grant, and Democratic politicians whose chief aims are, to beat Grant and get the offices.

The character of Mr Greeley is a mosaic of all incongruous materials. Always at variance on some essential point with the party he is in, he is nevertheless its most ardent supporter. Dogmatic and stubborn as a Stuart, he is still the most unstable of men. All the schisms and isms in politics, religion and philosophy have had him for their friend and enemy; for secession and for war to suppress secession; for the most thorough and merciless punishment of the rebels, and for universal amnesty; opposed to slavery as a crime against humanity, and opposed to its being treated by the Government as such; clamorous for civil service reform, and clamoring against the only party that has attempted such reform. These are pages of his life, taken at random but fair specimens of the whole. He has always committed himself unreservedly to the suggestions of his immediate surroundings, and acted upon the impulses of the hour, governed apparently by no settled principles except faithfulness to a some pet hobby. Every description of fanatic has found in him a patron; mountebanks of every species have found him an easy victim.

Such is the "Liberal" and Democratic candidate for President, and such the men who have him in—custody. What would be the policy of his administration? This question must be left unanswered till he is elected, and then each day must furnish its own answer, for the policy of one day would hardly be that of the next. But what would be the internal workings of his administration? Talk about rings! Talk about political stock jobbers and cormorants running the Government for private gain! Imagine Horace Greeley in the Presidential chair, surrounded by such a Cabinet as would be forced upon him. Tammany would be outdone by as much as the whole United States is greater than New York city. We can readily see that Mr Greeley has some qualifications that especially recommend him for the position he now occupies.

Bosh—The talk that Mr Holladay is not assisting Mr Mitchell in his Senatorial fight is simply bosh. What one of those who have always been foremost in all Mr Holladay's interests, that is not now actively at work for Mitchell? How many retainers has Mr Mitchell that have not been ever ready to do Mr Holladay's bidding? What means the lively interest taken in this contest by Mr Holladay himself? Everybody knows that if he desired to put Mr Mitchell out of the field to make room for himself or any other candidate he could do so with a word. The fact about the whole matter is, that all these special trains and dinners and secret meetings, are in the interest of Mr Mitchell, and so was that talk just before the meeting of the Legislature about Holladay's being a candidate himself. By giving Mr Mitchell all the assistance necessary to enable him to make the contest and at the same time keeping out of sight himself and even causing it to be understood that he and Mitchell are rivals, he can render the greatest possible aid without burdening his candidate with the weight of his private enterprises and schemes.

One of the good results—probably the least one—of the firm and manly course pursued by those Republican members of the Legislature who refuse to obey the arbitrary demands of the ring, is the manifest improvement of the manners of the Statesman. The ring organ is down on its knees begging the pardon of those members for its insolent behavior. Let us hope its professions of sorrow, though made ex parte, is are genuine.

The Farmer has a sensible article on the subject of fish culture in Oregon. By a small outlay in the way of a fish ladder at Oregon City the Wallamet and all its tributaries could be filled with Salmon and made productive of vast wealth to the country. California, imitating some of the Atlantic States, has taken hold of the matter through her Legislature and is supplying her rivers with shad.

More Evidence

The ring paper at Salem charges our correspondent Fairday with misstatement in regard to the conduct of Mr Mitchell after his defeat in the caucus of 1866. Our correspondent's statement of the transaction as related by one of the actors therein was that after Mr Gibbs received the caucus nomination, and on the same evening, about seventeen of Mr Mitchell's friends got together, Mr Mitchell himself being present, and agreed that they would not under any circumstances support Gibbs, notwithstanding the action of the caucus; that afterwards, under the pressure of the party in favor of good faith and honest dealing, it was thought best that all but about five should submit and give their support to Gibbs, but if those any of that five should weaken some one else should step into the breach; that Mr Mitchell believing that he could yet be elected continued to encourage this in their private meeting, till the agreement to elect Mr Corbett put an end to his hopes, when he ceased to take any interest in the matter.

The ring paper meets this statement by asserting that a number of members of that Legislature who were friends of Mr Mitchell pronounce it false. If the Statesman proves anything, it simply proves what we suppose was true: that Mr Mitchell had some friends in the Legislature who were not aware of the course he was pursuing, and that he now directs the editor of that paper to those persons for information. Of course they could only answer that they knew of no such arrangement. But would that prove that no one else knew of it? Mr Mitchell is a lawyer and can state if he will whether such evidence would be admissible to prove his innocence of the serious charge made against him. By his candid answer we are willing to abide. This is the old threadbare story over again of the man who called ten of his acquaintances to swear they did not see him steal the pig, in order to refute the testimony of the one witness who did see him. It did not win then and it will not win now.

We do not pretend to have any personal knowledge of the facts stated by our correspondent, but in addition to the natural presumption of its truth raised by the shallow quibbling of the ring paper, the circumstance that when there seemed a likelihood of Mr Gibbs' election in spite of the bolters another of Mitchell's friends did step into the breach, is strong corroboration.

Mr Mitchell is managing his own side of this case, and we have no disposition to interfere, but we venture to suggest that he publish his celebrated letter again. The situation evidently demands the third introduction of that document, because it is a matter of record.

Wants His Pay

We understand that Mr Mitchell finding himself unable to secure a seat in the United States Senate by his favorite mode, browbeating and menaces, has changed his tactics and is now pleading the merits of his services to the party during the last ten years. We would not under rate these services. The party probably owes its earlier triumphs and its reverses as much to him as to any other man. But what service has he ever performed that had not for its immediate and manifest object the gratification of his own ambition? He first became known in the politics of this State as candidate for the State Senate in 1862, when he was elected to that position. In 1864 he was President of the Senate. At the election of 1866 he gained an unenviable notoriety as a candidate for United States Senator and manipulator of primaries and caucuses. His connection with politics since that time all know but too well.

But conceding that he has served the party faithfully, by what sort of logic does he arrive at the conclusion that he has thus entitled himself to this reward? Are there no other persons who have done the same thing? Indeed are there none who have served it from its very infancy and claimed no honors from it? We had supposed that men usually labored for the success of a party because its principles and practices accorded with their ideas of what was right, and not for the rewards it might bestow on them. If Mr Mitchell has made some peculiar sacrifice to serve the Republican party which others have not made—if he has served it, for instance, when his own preference would have been consulted by serving the Democratic party—in that case there may be some special merit in his plea, though we must confess even that would be drawing it rather too fine for our moral comprehension. But if he has simply stuck to the old party for its principles as others have done all around him, he can ask no more than that he be considered a friend and not an enemy to the party, in the bestowal of its honors.

Here is a straw that shows the direction of that little breeze of a quarrel between Holladay and Mitchell. A certain minister of the Gospel being at Salem, last week, and naturally feeling some interest in the Senatorial contest, expressed his preference for Mr Corbett. When he went to leave he presented to the ticket agent the half fare pass usually held by ministers. Imagine his surprise upon being informed that orders had been received to withdraw his half fare pass and charge him full fare. He had forfeited his character as a minister by expressing his preference for a man whom the ring opposed. We can be specific if required.

Mr Mitchell's Politics—We do not wish to do this gentleman injustice. But when a man aspires to the position of United States Senator we think he ought to have a little more individuality than to say: What ever is Ben Holladay's politics is my politics, and whatever Ben Holladay wants I want. The people may some time want something independent of what Mr Holladay wants. It is right and proper that Mr Holladay should be protected and encouraged in every legitimate enterprise, but no U. S. Senator should be a man bound to him hand and foot.

Endorsement of the People—Petitions are being received by representatives at Salem from the various counties instructing them to stay out of caucus and vote in open convention and expressing their preferences for Hon Henry W. Corbett for the position of U. S. Senator. The people are justly alarmed at the manipulations of the caucus by the corporation [illegible]. The petitions are numerously signed and bear the names of most of the prominent Republicans in the several localities from which they come.

The amount of the United States against England submitted to the Geneva Tribunal exclusive of matters which were conceded not to be recoverable amounted to $17,700,611. The award was $15,500,000. Thus it will be seen that our Government not only established the principle of international law for which it contended, but actually recovered nearly the full damages claimed.

The People vs the Ring

SALEM Oregon Sept 18 1872

To the Editor of The Oregonian

Perhaps it will not be out of place for a stranger in the political field of Oregon to say a few words upon that question of all questions which at this time engrosses the minds not only of the Legislature but of the entire people of the State. Things should [illegible] innuendoes are daily indulged in by the [illegible] of this city against those who refuse to submit to the claims of the ring [illegible] they are called [illegible] trying to break up the Republican party, and are told that if this contest should result in the defeat of Mr Mitchell it will break up the party, and Mr Corbett's friends will be responsible therefor. As it appears to a stranger taking notes this is a contest between the people of Oregon and a would-be monopolist not only of the business but also of the politics of the State. Mr Mitchell is understood to be the paid attorney of Ben Holladay, having no policy outside of the interests of his employer, and who if sent to the Senate of the United States would consult the interests of Mr Holladay in preference to those of the State or the people. Whether this be true or false the people so understand it, and viewing it in this light they cannot as freemen and respecters of their own rights do better than support Mr Corbett or some other man who will look after and protect the interests of the people.

Primaries have been packed and other means resorted to for the nomination and election of men to the Legislature who would be friendly to the interests of this monopoly. The will and wishes of the people have been disregarded and entirely overridden. Men have been sent here who are not the representatives of the people. The slanderer's whip has been applied without mercy to compel men to do what they know to be contrary to the wishes of the people. Those who have the pluck to say that their constituents expect them to support any man other than Mr Mitchell are immediately charged with being disorganizers and trying to disrupt the Republican party. I find men here from all parts of the State—old men, middle aged men and young men—using their influence to thwart the schemes of those who would run the party into a one man power, and use its influence for the protection of one man's interest. If it be the intention of the Republican party of the State of Oregon to submit to the dictation of one man, as against the express will of the people, let us so understand it and prepare to submit if we deem it advisable. A lifelong Republican myself I make no hesitancy in saying, "If this be Republican principle farewell a long farewell to all my Republicanism." With his hired mercenaries running the streets to brow beat and ride down those who claim the right to exercise their prerogatives as freemen and express their own sentiments although it may not agree with others—with his money to hire those who can be influenced in that way—with his lines of railroads and steamship transportation under his absolute dictation as a power to intimidate the business men of the State—with all this and more Mr Holladay sits back a would be dictator over the people of the State. I ask in view of these facts are the people willing to submit to this dictation? Are the interests of one man paramount to the interests of the people? Are the representatives of the people here to day, or are those claiming to be representatives only a set of adventurers who are put like cattle in the markets, to be sold to the highest bidder? These are the great and absorbing questions which are agitating the public mind to day, and we have confidence that the Legislature will answer honestly and for the people. The destiny of the Republican party of this State depends upon the decision of that body. If they listen to their constituents all is well. If they do not, with them rests the responsibility. The question of caucus is only a blind, a pretext to bring in the timid under the plea of party usage. Let no one be deceived thereby, but let every one adhere to his convictions of right and duty to his constituents.

RAMBLER

Attorney General Williams spoke at the Wigwam in Philadelphia on the 5th inst, to an audience of over five thousand persons. The meeting was very enthusiastic. The speech, which appears at length in the Washington Chronicle, is one of the ablest we have read. The following is the closing paragraph:

"I know nothing of your local difficulties here, but I know it is next to impossibility in a great State like this to make party nominations that will please everybody. Partisan warfare is sometimes necessary to preserve and apply there results which are purchased by the blood of heroes upon the battle field. Personal considerations then dwarf into insignificance. Party integrity then becomes identical with public safety. On the second Tuesday of October Pennsylvania will speak upon the issues of this canvass with a voice that will ring and reverberate through every part of the Republic. Every ballot thrown here upon that day will have a moral power of more consequence to the nation than its legal power can be to the State. New Hampshire, Connecticut, Oregon, North Carolina, Vermont and Maine have won splendid victories, but Pennsylvania in her State election is to be the Gettysburg of this Presidential campaign. When the invader was driven from that memorable field the rebellion received its death blow, and the success of your Republican State ticket will be to the Greeley coalition an overwhelming and irretrievable defeat. Let Pennsylvania do her whole duty in October, and the decree will go forth as the edict of destiny, that the first Tuesday in November will be another Appomattox victory for Grant and the Republican party."

Says the Missouri Democrat: The New York Tribune is discussing the important question whether the battle of Belmont was a defeat or a victory. When the Tribune was a Republican newspaper Belmont was a victory, but now that it has become a Confederate organ it is of course to be received in the light of a defeat. It might [illegible] as a proof that Grant is unworthy of Democratic support and he defeated us at Fort Donelson, Shiloh, Vicksburg and Appomattox. We must say however that the World as a Democratic newspaper is not a success. It has not the ability of the World, or the enterprise of the Herald, and as an antidote for Greeley [illegible] it is [illegible] being too indecent. Mr Greeley has ruined the Democratic party by joining it, and the New York Tribune by withdrawing [illegible]. The [illegible] of journalism are [illegible] mashed [illegible] maturity.

From the facts elicited at the post mortem [illegible] held by Dr Parker, on the bod[illegible] Joseph Cook, the jury are of the opinion tha[illegible] deceased died from pneumonia. A C R[illegible] Lev[illegible] Wm Abernethy, A J Sutherl[illegible] Thos [illegible] D Barry.

The remains of Cook were buried yesterday [illegible]

View of Portland.—At the store of Me[illegible] Snow & Roos, can be seen on exhibition a vie[illegible] Portland, taken from Yamhill street at a p[illegible] near the city suburbs. The painting is execu[illegible] in oil colors, and is from the brush of R. T. C[illegible] man, a well known artist of the city, of a[illegible] acknowledged merits and tal[illegible]. The view is [illegible] cessarily restricted to only a portion of the [illegible] including the central or business part. Nearl[illegible] not all the principal and public buildings of [illegible] place can be observed. All the churches of [illegible] city can be seen at one sweep of the eye. So [illegible] curately true has each [illegible] building be[illegible] sketched, the characteristic [illegible] may be de[illegible] mined by the architectural style of the spires, [illegible] the exact locality where each is situated. In [illegible] same range of vision can be seen and distinguis[illegible] the Odd Fellows' Temple, Masonic Temple, [illegible] incomplete Custom House, several of the pub[illegible] schools and numerous other edifices, all of wh[illegible] have been limned so faithfully, that they can [illegible] identified instantly. The wooded stretch of co[illegible] try extending from the river clear away to [illegible] base of Mount Hood, which rises in majesty a[illegible] is clearly outlined against the blue horizon [illegible] portrayed with life like vividness and beauty. T[illegible] whole is a piece of art evinces great care, pai[illegible] taking and does the clever artist credit. T[illegible] artist has expended the assiduous skill and la[illegible] of over three weeks on the sketch. He should [illegible] abundantly rewarded for his work and the bea[illegible] some painting should soon adorn the pa[illegible] of some wealthy citizen who has at hand [illegible] ready means to purchase and the good t[illegible] to appreciate and admire Mr Coleman's arti[illegible] efforts. The picture is 24x18 inches, includ[illegible] in its dimensions a handsome gilt frame.

Passengers.—The following passengers are [illegible] board the steamer John L. Stephens now en ro[illegible] for this port from San Francisco: W Nixo[illegible] M Page, C Kane, J Umper, L Sch[illegible], [illegible] S Burrell, A Carrier, A C Diehl, T E Jackr[illegible] Mrs Ach and son, J D Coughlin, Miss N Kl[illegible] R S Stephens, L Kagu, W B Adcoop, G A Brit[illegible] and Miss C Fitzhugh, O Walter, Mrs D[illegible] Troost, Miss Friendly, J Abraim, Rev Dr [illegible] Gorty and wife, 3 Sisters of Charity, E Blackw[illegible] F Bunn and wife, L F Holmes and family, [illegible] Parker, Mrs C G Bleg[illegible], Mrs S M Carti[illegible] Ash, H J Gale, J J Rogers, S Harris, J Bisch[illegible] H Cochrane and wife, J L Egro, C B Pierce, Mis[illegible] McNamara, J Flannigan, T J Gilne, J H Tay[illegible] A Goodnough, Dr Brooke, U S A, Miss E S[illegible] Bort and sister, C P Yates, W E Fitzhugh, M[illegible] M G Hill, Mrs S J Barker, S H Friendly, C B[illegible] Kwastein, Dr F D Mueller, W Dutton, M Bar[illegible] D Davis and family, Mrs McCormick, Mrs H[illegible] Stutzel, Mrs T P Mendenhall.

Accidentally Shot.—Last Thursday aft[illegible] noon a boy named Thomas Connolly, residing [illegible] East Portland was standing on the depot pl[illegible] form waiting for the train to arrive from Sale[illegible] He had a pistol in his pocket, which he k[illegible] handling all the time. The trigger sudde[illegible] slipped and the weapon was discharged, the b[illegible] entering his thigh, producing an ugly wou[illegible] He was taken to a drug store, where his wou[illegible] were dressed and from thence home. Will bo[illegible] never profit by the sad experience of others a[illegible] abstain from the use of firearms, or else learn [illegible] handle them with a greater degree of caution?

Tear[illegible] Down.—Most of the machinery of t[illegible] saw mill at the foot of G street, has been tak[illegible] down and removed to the lower mill. The fo[illegible] dation has been torn away, the stacks, boiler a[illegible] engine only remaining. These will all be [illegible] moved too present week. The building is a[illegible] surrendering to the general demolition. Alrea[illegible] the roof and rafters have been torn off. T[illegible] walls and frame, clear down to the pile found[illegible] tion, will follow. We learn a depot building w[illegible] occupy the site of the old saw mill.

Episcopal Fund.—The Oregon Churchman s[illegible] the clergy will bear to mind that, according [illegible] the appointments of the Bishop's Pastoral [illegible] month of October is fixed for Offerings for [illegible] Episcopal Fund. This Fund has but rece[illegible] been begun, but it is high time that the Chur[illegible] bers should begin to make provisions for the ex[illegible] port of the Episcopate. No Sunday in Octobe[illegible] specified but the first Sunday is manifestly [illegible] proper one when the Holy Communion is to [illegible] administered.

Forwarded.—The plans, specifications a[illegible] accompanying ordinances and papers of the W[illegible] street bridge were forwarded on the last steam[illegible] Secretary of War Mr Belknap for his exa[illegible] nation and approval. Official information fr[illegible] Washington may be expected within a mon[illegible] until then [illegible] of the submitted plans [illegible] will be kept suspended by the bridge co[illegible] pany. When the authorities signify the approv[illegible] of the plans [illegible] will be commenced actively a[illegible] vance it.

"The Coming Woman."—A late San Fra[illegible] cisco exchange says: "A lecture with the abo[illegible] title is shortly to be delivered in this city (some t[illegible] next week) by Mrs Minnie Myrtle Miller [illegible] wife of the poet, and herself a poetess who h[illegible] lectured with great success in Portland, Oreg[illegible] The manner of this extemporaneous [illegible] august in which she will be carefully observed, a[illegible] a curiosity [illegible] of one of the most extra[illegible] dinary characters of the nineteenth century will [illegible] given."

Schools.—St. Helen's Hall and the Bish[illegible] Scott Grammar School have opened with a la[illegible] number of pupils—107 girls and 50 boys. T[illegible] teachers in both schools are much pleased w[illegible] manifest improvement of those pupils who a[illegible] steadily returned with them and who are ab[illegible] enough [illegible] to be advantages of the ins[illegible] schools [illegible] can be [illegible] the best working order [illegible] [illegible] and profitabl[illegible]

T[illegible] Mr Severs [illegible] pilots [illegible] Friday [illegible] [illegible] between [illegible] the Wa[illegible] [illegible] whether [illegible] steamers [illegible] a large amount [illegible] water to reach [illegible]

Pi[illegible] —C R [illegible] that the road bridge [illegible] river has bee[illegible] completed. MONDAY MORNING, SEPT 23 1872.

CITY.

A Sudden Death —Last Saturday evening about 4 30 o clock a young looking man was observed to be staggering as if intoxicated under the wharf to the rear of the store of Messrs Everding & Farrell A man who saw him ran to his assistance for fear he might fall overboard Before the apparently intoxicated man could be reached he suddenly threw up his hands convulsively and fell Two officers—Kelly and Watson—were notified of the fact and repaired to the spot with dispatch Reaching the man they found him prostrate groaning as if in great physical pain and quivering as if laboring under a fit To the question as to what was the matter the man only remarked "I'm poisoned" An express wagon was procured and he was removed to the police station still continuing to manifest strange and convulsive symptoms, a physician was immediately summoned but before that person arrived the sick man expired From the time the man was first discovered until the vital spark fled scarcely fifteen minutes elapsed After death the remains were removed to the undertaker s The Coroner was notified and a jury summoned to investigate the causes which led to his death It was determined to hold a post mortem examination on the body The jury were accordingly discharged till yesterday morning at 10 o clock to enable the physician, Dr Parker, to make the necessary examination The jury and Coroner met Sunday morning at the office of Dr Parker to conclude the inquest The written statement of the physician was read, and several witnesses examined From the evidence it appeared that the deceased was aged about 25 years name Joseph Cook was a stranger in the city had been stopping for some time past at the American Exchange Hotel at the time of his death was in the employ of Mr Ryder, who resides on the Columbia Slough was a carpenter by trade and had in his pocket several plans and specifications for buildings for the week preceding his death, had been indulging very freely in drink After a very careful investigation, the jury rendered the following verdict

From the facts elicited at the post mortem examination held by Dr Parker, on the body of Joseph Cook, the jury are of the opinion that the deceased died from pneumonia A C Ripley, Lem Keler, Wm Abernethy, A J Sutherland Thos. Smith, B Barry

The remains of Cook were buried yesterday

View of Portland —At the store of Messrs [illegible] & Roos, can be seen on exhibition a view of Portland taken from Yamhill street at a point near the city suburbs The painting is executed in oil colors, and is from the brush of E T Coleman a well known artist of the city, of generally [illegible] merits and talent. The view is not restricted to only a portion of the city including the central or business part Nearly, if not all the principal and public buildings of the place can be observed All the churches of the city can be seen at one sweep of the eye. So accurately true has each church building been portrayed that the denomination can readily be determined by the architectural style of the spires and the exact locality where each is situated. In the same range of vision can be seen and distinguished the Odd Fellows' Temple, Masonic Temple the incomplete Custom House several of the public schools, and numerous other edifices, all of which have been limned so faithfully, that they can be recognized instantly The wooded stretch of country extending from the river clear away to the base of Mount Hood, which rises in majesty and distinctly outlined against the blue horizon is portrayed with life like vividness and beauty The whole as a piece of art evinces great care pains taking and does the clever artist credit The artist has expended the assiduous skill and labor of over three weeks on the sketch He should be [illegible] rewarded for his work and the handsome painting should soon adorn the parlor of some wealthy citizen who has at hand the only means to purchase, and the good taste to appreciate and admire Mr Coleman s artistic skill The picture is 24x18 inches—including [illegible] a handsome gilt frame

[illegible] —The following passengers are on board the steamer John L. Stephens now en route from San Francisco W Nixon, J [illegible] e, J Umper, L Schwabacher, M Currier, A C Diehl, T B Jackson, [illegible] son, J D Coughlin, Miss N Kline, L Kaga, W B Adcoop, G A Strick[illegible] C Fitzhugh, O Walter, Mrs D M Friendly, J Abraim, Rev Dr Mc[illegible] wife, 3 Sisters of Charity, E Blackwell, and wife, L P Helman and family, A S [illegible] Mrs C G Bingham, Mrs S M Carrin M [illegible], J J Rogers, S Harris, J Black, J [illegible] wife, J L Egro, C B Pierce, Miss J [illegible] J Flannigan, T J Gline, J H Taylor [illegible] Dr Brooks, U S A, Miss E Shu[illegible] C P Yates, W E Fitzhugh, Miss [illegible] Mrs S J Barker, S H Friendly, C Fal[illegible] F D Mueller, W Duton M Barrett [illegible] family, Mrs McCormick, Mrs H V [illegible] Mrs T P Mendenhall, [illegible] Shot —Last Thursday afternoon [illegible] Thomas Connolly residing in [illegible], was standing on the depot platform [illegible] for the train to arrive from Salem [illegible] a pistol in his pocket, which he kept [illegible] all the time The trigger suddenly [illegible] and the weapon was discharged, the ball [illegible] thigh, producing an ugly wound [illegible] to a drug store where his wounds [illegible], and from thence home Will boys [illegible] by the sad experiences of others and [illegible] from the use of firearms or else learn to [illegible] them with a greater degree of caution?

[illegible] Down —Most of the machinery of the [illegible] at the foot of G street has been taken [illegible] removed to the lower mill The fur[illegible] been torn away, the stacks, boiler and [illegible] only remaining These will all be removed [illegible] the present week The building is also [illegible] to the general demolition Already [illegible] and rafters have been torn off The [illegible] frame, clear down to the pile foundation [illegible] We learn a depot building will [illegible] site of the old saw mill

[illegible] Fund —The Oregon Churchman says [illegible] will bear in mind that according to [illegible] of the Bishop s Pastoral the [illegible] October is fixed for Offerings for the [illegible] Fund This Fund has but recently [illegible], but it is high time that the Church [illegible] begin to make provisions for the support [illegible] Episcopate No Sunday in October is [illegible] but the first Sunday is manifestly the [illegible] when the Holy Communion is to be [illegible]

[illegible] —The plans specifications and [illegible] ing ordinances and papers of the Wal[illegible] were forwarded on the last steamer [illegible] of War Mr Belknap for his examination [illegible] approval Official information from [illegible] may be expected within a month [illegible] approval of the submitted plans work [illegible] temporarily suspended by the bridge com[illegible] the authorities signify the approval [illegible], work will be commenced actively and

[illegible] and the Man —A la e San Fran[illegible] says "A lecture with the above [illegible] will be delivered in this city (some time [illegible]) by Mrs Minnie Myrtle Miller, the [illegible] poet, and herself a poetess who has [illegible] great success in Portland, Oregon [illegible] 'nothing extenuate nor set down [illegible] malice' will be carefully observed and [illegible] analysis of one of the most extraor[illegible] of the nineteenth century will be

[illegible] —St Helen s Hall and the Bishop [illegible] School have opened with a large [illegible] pupils 130 girls and 0 boys The [illegible] in both schools are much pleased with the [illegible] improvement of those pupils who have [illegible] continued with them and who are now [illegible] showing the advantages of the thor[illegible] patient training they have had The [illegible] are now in the best working order and [illegible] hardly fail to mark a good and profitable

[illegible] Soundings —Mr Stevens one of the [illegible] between Astoria and this port went to Van[illegible] last Friday He took a number of sound[illegible] the mouth of the Wallamet and [illegible], the object being to ascertain the aver[illegible] depth of the Columbia and [illegible] the present stage of water [illegible] and ships drawing a large amount of [illegible] to reach Vancouver

[illegible] —Col H R Leonard states that the [illegible] bridge across the Umpqua river has been [illegible] The rails will be laid across it next [illegible] and it is expected that by [illegible] of the present week the trains of the [illegible] Railroad will run to Rose-

COMMON COUNCIL

SPECIAL MEETING SEPT 21 1872

A special meeting of the Common Council was held at the Chamber last Saturday evening The object of the meeting as previously announced was to examine and discuss the report of the Committee on Water Supply
Mayor Wasserman in the chair
Present Burton Caywood Cingle Hill and Story
Absent Halleck Besser Moreland and Russell
On motion the Auditor commenced to read the report of the Committee [The report and all the accompanying papers were published in the Oregonian]
Mr Hill moved that the further reading of the report be dispensed with as he supposed every member of the Council had read the same when it was published The motion prevailed and the reading was omitted
Councilman Story moved to strike out the words in the 11th section of the amended bill to be presented to the Legislature "Both principal and interest to be paid in gold coin" and to add the following to the end of the same section "Provided that said bonds or any of them may be issued with both principal and interest or either of them payable in gold coin or any lawful currency of the United States as may be deemed expedient And provided further that whenever the sum of money realized from their sale or disposition is equal to the estimate made by said Board of the probable cost of furnishing water as aforesaid thereafter no more of said bonds shall be issued except as the Council may provide and direct
The proposed amendments were adopted
Councilman Hill offered the following preamble and resolution which on motion was adopted
Whereas the draft of an act entitled "An act to provide the city of Portland with water" reported by the joint committee of the Common Council and of citizens has been prepared after careful and thorough consideration and investigation and has been published in the daily newspapers of Portland as well as in circulars so that all the tax payers of the city have been fully informed of the provisions thereof and whereas there is a pressing and increasing demand for the furnishing of the people of Portland with a sufficient supply of water therefore,
Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Common Council that the passage of said bill as amended this evening would greatly promote the welfare of the people of said city and this Council request the passage of said bill by the Legislature
Resolved That the Auditor and Clerk be and hereby is directed to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the Senators and Representatives of Multnomah county in the Legislature
Resolved That the Auditor and Clerk also forward to the Governor and to each member of the Senate and House of Representatives a copy of the report of said joint committee and all accompanying documents
The Council then adjourned

The Know Nothing Charge against Senator Wilson.

The editor of the Irish Republic speaking of the charge of Know-Nothingism so constantly and gloatingly made against the Republican candidate for Vice President with the sole purpose of influencing the votes of the foreigners very sensibly says.

The Liberals, having no high principle to stand upon, having no record at their backs, and only their good intentions for the future, are fighting recklessly, and sending out false accusations and assertions, like evils from Pandora's box, trusting to the excitement of of the time and guilibility of their supporters that they may escape rebuke, never taking into consideration the disrepute which is sure to fall upon the distributors of lies. They argue if we win, even by such means all will be well: while if we lose we cannot be worse than we are.

One of the first principles of the Liberals—and, indeed, the overshadowing one—is, "let the dead past bury the dead." Forgive and forget. Bridge the bloody chasm—with heartless hand shaking and flowers of rhetoric. Throw the bones of a million dead into this promiscuous burial place. The men who saved and the men who destroyed, side by side, find equal honor and equal room in the great souls of the new party!

Now, mark the falsity of these men. They demand that past issues shall be buried so deep that the resurrection can never reach them, and in the same false breath they shout Know-Nothingism at Henry Wilson.

We are not defending the miserable madness which called Know-Nothingism into being; but if our Democratic-Liberal-What-Not party, who are anxious to forget the past, and who suck back their sentiments before they have well passed their lips, desire to bring the skeleton of Know-Nothingism on the dissecting table, and throw the light of the dark lantern between its ribs, so that men may read the names engraved on its stony heart, why, let them do so. We have nothing to fear. There are more Know-Nothings on their side than on ours. They speak about our candidate for Vice Presidency as being a member of that order. Do they not know that three-fourths of the American people belonged to it? Do they not know that it rose like a tidal wave and swept the land, and that those who would not join it were liable to be swept aside? Henry Wilson for twenty years had been the friend of liberty and the advocate of labor. Whether he belong to the Know-Nothing party or not we care not. In his hands the rights of all men are safe, and his heart is as broad as humanity. Neither do we condemn those on the Liberal side for the sins of their youth—Know-Nothingism; but we desire to show the Irish people the hypocrisy and devilish deceptiveness of those who cry out against Mr. Wilson.

General Banks, the late convert to Greeleyism, was a leading Know-Nothing. Why not tell us about General Bank's harangues in those days? Mr. Brooks, of New York, the great light of Democracy, and now supported by Irish votes, was a most vindictive Know-Nothing, and doubtless incited many a poor wretch to deeds of violence against the foreigner. Yet, Mr. Brooks cries out against Mr. Wilson, and Mr. Brooks is supported by men whose fathers were murdered by his order of Know-Nothingism. Why not give us a little of your space, oh, illiberal Liberals! on the heinousness of Mr. Brooks, or must the sin be visited alone upon Republicans? Governor Gardner, of Massachusetts, was the very embodiment of hatred to foreigners. He was head Know-Nothing in Massachusetts. Captain Cass and his militia companies were disarmed by his orders, as unfit to be trusted with rifles. Colonel Cass and the gallant Massachusetts Ninth afterward sealed their devotion to their adopted country when Gardner skulked in the ranks of Democracy and lent the South the benefit of his home treason. Yet, Gardner is now, and has been, a leader in the Massachusetts Democracy, and Irishmen have shaken Faneuil Hall with their cheers for this man, Gardner. But, of course it is only when Know-Nothings have become Republican that the crime has remained unblotted.

When this man Gardner was Governor of Massachusetts he sent back the poor Irish emigrants, who had lived years in Massachusetts, when they became poor. Mary Williams and her native-born child were tumbled into a ship and sent to an Irish poorhouse by Gardner. Yet, of course, Mr. Gardner is now a Democrat and is the idol of the Irish. It was when Gardner was Governor that the "smelling committee" went into the Boston convents to insult the nuns and to shame civilization. Yet Gardner is now on the shoulders of the Catholics, and doubtless hates them as devilishly—and more so, because he covers his hatred in assumed love—as he did in the riant days of his disarming of the Irish militia.

Sinnott, the organizer of Know-Nothing clubs, the petroleum slinger of the order in the New England States, is also a leading Democrat, and the Irish have taken him to their hearts.

General Butler, who fought against Gardner and Sinnott and their hirelings, who stumped New England, denouncing the unconstitutionality of the disarming of the Irish militia, is not loved half so well by the sensible and just Irish, who recognize the fact that all who are Democrats only are worthy of consideration, as Gardner and Sinnott!!!

Come, gentleman of the What-Not party, you have dug up this Know-Nothingism, and if it should be offensive in your olfactories, blame yourselves. Your whole party is led by Know-Nothings, and yet you imagine that Irishmen are weak enough to be led into your shambles by species cries.

Mr. Greeley may never have been a Know-Nothing in the lodge sense of the word, but he was a leader of the Whig party, and that party was Know-Nothing comparatively. It went for twenty-one years' residence in the country before giving the foreigner a vote. In all the files of the Tribune during the Know-Nothing years we ask where the order was condemned?

Henry A. Wise, who broke the back of Know-Nothingism, now opposes Greeley, and when the order was in its heyday, President Grant was a true Democrat, believing in the liberal principles of that party then.

We are of the opinion that the Liberals were wise in asking that the past should be ignored, and cannot help thinking that they were unwise in lifting the pall from the tomb where the order Know-Nothing is moldering in silent disgrace.

They have a cheap way of doing things at Elko, Nevada. One Thursday morning the dead and mangled body of an Indian was found lying on the railroad track. Instead of holding an inquest and burying the unfortunate brother, they let him lie on the track until the six o'clock express came along and ran over him again, using him up still further. A freight train and a hand-car settled the business, and it was concluded there was not enough of him left to be worth burying.

The Missouri, Kansas, and Texas road killed stock for the people of Ladore without paying for it; so the people soaped the track by night, and spent the next forenoon watching the train in its futile efforts to slide through it.

Two Peoria ladies, whose joint weight amounted to about seven hundred and fifty pounds, indulged in a little fight at the circus the other day, because they could not both occupy one seat.

Victoria Regia has sent an embroidered snuff-box of luminated papier mache to Stanley Africanus. Stanley says it's 'nuff to make a fellow sneeze for joy to be recognized in that regal way.

In a paragraph on vocations the Christian Union says: "It strikes us that society is so arranged that the American young lady has a pretty easy time of it, compared with her brother."

A Mrs. Clark is editing a paper for George Francis Train in Sacramento, and stirs up her readers with appeals such as "Vox populi, vox Train! We want a man." We should think so.

"An immense affair, with flags and transparencies, torchlights, drums, brass bands, glee clubs, cheers, yells, and eloquence," is the description of a political meeting in a Western paper

There has been no very important change to note in our local money market since the date of our last writing. The demand for bank accommodations still continues active from all departments of trade.

Business of most kinds seems to show some indications of increased activity. Jobbers report some fair sales, and orders are coming in a little more liberally. Rates for Wheat do not seem inclined to appreciate or decline, and the uncertainty which prevails in regard to the future of this crop is evidently a source of the dullness now experienced in the market. From all points in the Wallamet Valley we hear of large quantities being received on storage, but no extensive further movements are noted. The realization of a fair profit on our surplus Wheat this year would place us in good financial condition.

In general terms our home market is without change, and has so continued for several days, except an occasional demand for some scarce commodity has temporarily advanced ruling rates. A fair stock for the fall trade is on hand in our jobbing establishments, and no doubt the usual amount of business will be realized by them before the coming of our winter rains.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, IN CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 6, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June 1872 again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country.

1. During the eleven years of its ascendancy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time, has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offenses and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It initiated a new policy toward the Indians; the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted to completion, the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers, immigration has been protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit, and sustained it under the most extraordinary burdens. It has negotiated new bonds at lower rates of interest. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reductions from the rate of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during U. S. Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in a high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men, composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolists, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the time of duty became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Government, and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of those two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction; and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves, as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of asserting constitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.

NATIONAL BANK OF PORTLAND.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

THIS BANK HAS ESTABLISHED IN CONNECTION with its general Banking Business a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, and will allow Interest on Coin Deposits made in accordance with the conditions adopted by the Association.

In establishing a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT this Banking Association has in view the benefits to accrue to a class of persons having small sums to loan by providing a safe place of deposit, ample security and fair rate of interest, as well as to aggregate and bring into use idle capital.

For the safety of deposits in this Bank are pledged its entire capital and resources, and also the personal liability of its Directors and Stockholders, as provided by Section 12 of the National Currency Act, approved June 3, 1864, a greater security than that given by ordinary Savings Banks. Printed copies of the conditions upon which deposits are received may be had upon application at the Bank.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.
